truu trio.
The intelligent tap for design lovers.

Introduction of the premium three-way tap truu trio made from stainless steel, which delivers tap water and truu original water through strictly separate lines from a single fixture. Includes color variants, prices, and technical data.

This tap made from the finest stainless steel is the perfect solution when you want just one water tap for conventional tap water and truu original water. Both flow through strictly separate lines from a single fixture. Through one flows water from the normal household connection, through a special stainless steel line only the purest, original water from the truu home system. This means your truu original water comes into contact with no plastic whatsoever after filtration. And so that truu trio fits perfectly with your style, the stainless steel fixture is available in three attractive colors. It is available in matte silver as well as in anodized matte black or anodized matte gold.
